BE PREPARED FOR HURRICANE SEASON

It is that time of year again. Hurricane season is here and now is the time to prepare for any possible events that would threaten our area. Start now and get an emergency plan in place for your family, home and pets. We never know when disaster will strike. If it does, there are a few things that you can do today to ensure that you will have access to your money.

- * Go direct deposit
- * Get an ATM/ Debit Card
- * Get signed up for Homebanking
- * Get a Visa Credit Card

During an emergency situation you may not be able to rely on debit cards if phone lines and networks are down. Make sure to plan ahead by getting extra cash out and carry a check book with you.

Due to the unpredictability of potential storms, we are not always able to give advance notice as to when the Credit Union may have to close. Acadian Federal Credit Union will remain open as long as reasonably possible; however, we will take careful steps to ensure the safety of our staff and members by closing early.

Watch our website to get the latest updates if Acadiana should be threatened by a possible storm. There you will get information on where to go to be able to get cash, make deposits, or pay on a loan and alternative contact phone numbers for you to be able to contact us.
